STEP-DOWN TRANSFORMERS

These transformers are designed to operate on alternating current of 100 to 130 volts, 60 to 133 cycles. They are so constructed that they will reduce this high voltage current to lower voltages, ranging from 3 up to as high as 26 volts on the largest. While these low voltage currents are still alternating they will operate nearly all classes of direct current apparatus, such as induction coils, bells, buzzers, low voltage lamps, series wound battery motors, electric trains, etc. A number of currents having different voltages can be drawn at the same time from any of these transformers.

REGULAR TYPE TRANSFORMERS

These transformers are very efficient in design and construction. Attachment is made to any lamp socket. The various voltages are obtained by making connections to the different projecting parts.

LIONEL MINIATURE ELECTRIC TRAINS

There are probably no toys made that will hold the interest and attention like these electric trains. No matter how long a boy has them, they will continue to be a joy and pleasure. Besides being a constant amusement they educate and instruct. They give the boy a knowledge of electricity and simple mechanics that he will unconsciously acquire a knowledge that will always be of benefit to him in his latter life, no matter what his profession or trade may be.

These toys are almost perfect in electrical and mechanical construction. With proper care they will last many, many years. Each part, every detail, has been carefully designed and constructed. Do not compare these trains with some of the cheap imported goods that were formerly on the market. They are of a superior make and represent substantial, durable construction that will stand up even under severe usage.

These trains may be run with current drawn from either three to eight dry batteries, any 6 or 8 volt storage battery, or from 110 volt alternating power current that has been transformed down with one of our step-down transformers. Any of the sources of current named are satisfactory, even dry batteries will be found to be not very expensive as a set will, with ordinary usage, run even the largest train for weeks.

All These Pianos Fully Described in Our Piano Catalogue

Material and Construction

On account of lack of space it is impossible for us to describe in detail in this general catalogue any of our Windsor Pianos. We have, therefore, prepared an attractive thirty-two page special piano booklet, which gives you complete information on every model.

In this book, Windsor Pianos are built before your very eyes and the whole process of their construction explained.

In it we show you how a first-class instrument ought to be made. The illustrations are reproductions of actual photographs, made right in the factory, and show every important feature exactly as it is. The descriptions are clear, free from confusing technical terms and easily understood by anyone, regardless of whether he has a previous knowledge of pianos or not.

If you are planning the purchase of a piano, you should have this book for your guidance. It will prove helpful whether your final selection be a Windsor or some other make.

Our Thirty Day Trial Offer

Every Windsor piano is shipped with the distinct understanding that it is to be given thirty days' trial in your own home before the final acceptance or rejection is made. The Windsor must stand or fall strictly on its own merits. The piano itself must prove to you that every claim we make for it is true. During the trial period it is our earnest wish that you exhaust every available resource to ascertain whether it is the piano you wish to own or not. If not satisfied to rely on your own judgment as to interior construction, tonal quality, probable durability, etc., do not hesitate to enlist the services of the best musicians and pianists in your vicinity and get their opinions. We are perfectly willing to risk our chances of making a sale upon the honest verdict of any competent, unprejudiced authority.

This Special Catalogue Sent on Request

If you are contemplating the purchase of a piano now, or in the near future, you ought to have a copy of this piano book. We send it postpaid on request. A postcard will bring it. Write for it today.

A Word About Prices

The impression seems to prevail in the minds of many people, that in order to secure a strictly high-grade piano, it is necessary to pay from $450.00 to $500.00, according to make and style. This is a mistaken idea, however, as we conclusively prove in our special piano catalogue. In it we show you exactly what a piano ought to cost, and fully explain our direct economical selling methods, which enable us to ship a piano direct from factory to your home at but a slight advance over the actual cost of manufacture.

Our Piano Guarantee

We Guarantee that every article sold will be as illustrated and described in our Catalogue; will arrive in good condition; will serve its intended purpose; and will be satisfactory to you.

You may always exchange for other articles or have your money back, including, in either case, the transportation charges which you have paid.

We Guarantee that every Windsor Piano is constructed throughout of the finest materials, all lumber thoroughly seasoned; every branch of the workmanship handled by experienced piano builders; and ordinary wear and tear excepted, it is guaranteed for twenty-five years from date of purchase.

Should this piano, with proper care and usage, prove defective in material or workmanship during time specified, we agree to put it in perfect condition Free of All Expense. If it becomes necessary, on account of any imperfections, to ship it to our factory, we will pay freight charges both ways. We do not guarantee this piano against checking of the varnish or other troubles resulting from extreme heat, extreme cold, or dampness.

It is our desire to make trading with us so easy, so profitable, and so satisfactory, that you will be pleased not only with the goods received, but also with our service and our entire method of dealing.

The Massive, Richly Finished, Artist's Grand Piano, illustrated here, is not only our finest instrument, but a piano that measures up in its artistic features to those of the so-called highest grades that are sold by regular dealers and agents for $450.00 to $500.00 each.

The Artist's Windsor represents the highest skill in piano building. Only the best of everything in the way of materials is used. Every branch of the workmanship is handled by expert piano builders—men who have spent years in the manufacture of pianos of the highest grade. It possesses a full, rich, singing tone, of much power and duration. With our faultless and responsive action, tone can be controlled or modulated from the heaviest forte to the softest pianissimo.

General Description

The Iron Plate or Frame—Full iron plate, cast in one piece.

The Back—Made of rock elm, with extra strong end stanchions, and four center stanchions with dovetailed ends.

The Pin Block—Made of rock maple, five-ply construction, glued together under enormous pressure with the grain of the different pieces laid at right angles. The tuning pins will never slip, and are bushed with hard maple, so that they do not touch the metal plate.

The Sounding Board—Scientifically constructed of thoroughly seasoned, even grained, mountain grown Vermont spruce. Accurately ribbed. The ribs are glued on under heavy pressure, and are dovetailed into the bars and back.

The Scale—Full 7⅓ octaves. String supports or bridges accurately placed.

The Strings—Made from the finest grade of imported Poehlmann steel piano wire, noted the world over for its superior tonal qualities and tensile strength. Three strings to each treble tone, tuned in unison. Two strings tuned in unison in the bass registers, with the exception of the lower ten tones where the single string is used. All bass strings copper wound on steel.

The Action—Is the double repeating type, quick and responsive.

The Keys—Made of straight grained spruce or pine, thoroughly seasoned. Weighted to balance perfectly. Fronts and tops covered with genuine tusk ivory of finest grade and highly polished. The sharps (black keys) are made of genuine African ebony and highly polished.

The Hammers—Fourteen-pound hammers. Made of the highest grade of imported German white wool piano felt.

The Pedals and all Metal Trimmings—Cast from solid brass and polished. Mouse-proof and practically noiseless.

The Case—Built of hard wood, double veneered all over with fancy American walnut or rich dark mahogany. Veneers are of the finest selected quality, with natural figured grainings, carefully and evenly matched.

All mouldings, pilasters and wood trimmings are double veneered and highly polished. The caps are hand carved. Full Empire top. Upper panel swings out to form music rest. Both upper and lower panels are removable, affording easy access to the interior of the instrument.

The Finish—After a coat of wood filler, the case is given several coats of finest piano varnish, each coat being rubbed dry before the next is applied. Lastly the case receives a brilliant French or hand polish.

The Workmanship—The very best throughout.

The Tone—Full, round, singing tone of great power and sweetness. It cannot be justly described but must be heard to be appreciated.

Windsor Player Piano

$397.00

Shipped from factory in Northern Illinois

Height, 4 feet, 9½ inches. Width, 4 feet, 4½ inches. Depth, 2 feet, 6 inches.

To meet the needs of the piano buying public, we have added a player-piano to the stock in our Piano Department. Our player-piano combines in one instrument a high grade Windsor piano, and a player mechanism, that is, we believe, the best on the market today.

The Windsor Player Piano is an instrument to delight the skilled pianist as in construction and tone, it is everything that could be desired in a first-class piano. At the same time the player mechanism enables young or old, without practice or previous knowledge of music, to render the world's masterpieces in a pleasing way.

Therefore, if you are contemplating the purchase of a piano, why not consider a player-piano—the usefulness of which is not limited by the ability of the family to play it? There is no more uplifting influence in the home than good music and with a player-piano and the necessary rolls, it is at hand any time it is wanted.

The price of the Windsor Player-Piano is $397.00, cash. At this cash price, it is, in our opinion the greatest value in a player-piano on the market today. It combines in one instrument a thoroughly high grade piano, and a player action as fine as can be produced. Player-Pianos in no way better, and many not as good as the Windsor, are being sold today in New York, Chicago and other large cities at prices ranging from $650.00 to $750.00, depending on the make of the piano, and the expense of their methods of doing business. To the actual manufacturing cost of the Windsor Player-Piano, we have added our one small profit—nothing more. We do not even have the expense of handling, as the player is shipped to you direct from the factory. The Windsor Player-Piano will stand comparison with any player on the market, irrespective of name. It is thoroughly good all the way through, and at our price of $397.00, you have an opportunity to buy a dependable player at as near the actual factory cost as a player can possibly be sold.

The Player

The Player Mechanism used in this instrument contains all the most valuable improvements known to modern builders, as well as several special features, all its own, the most important of which are:

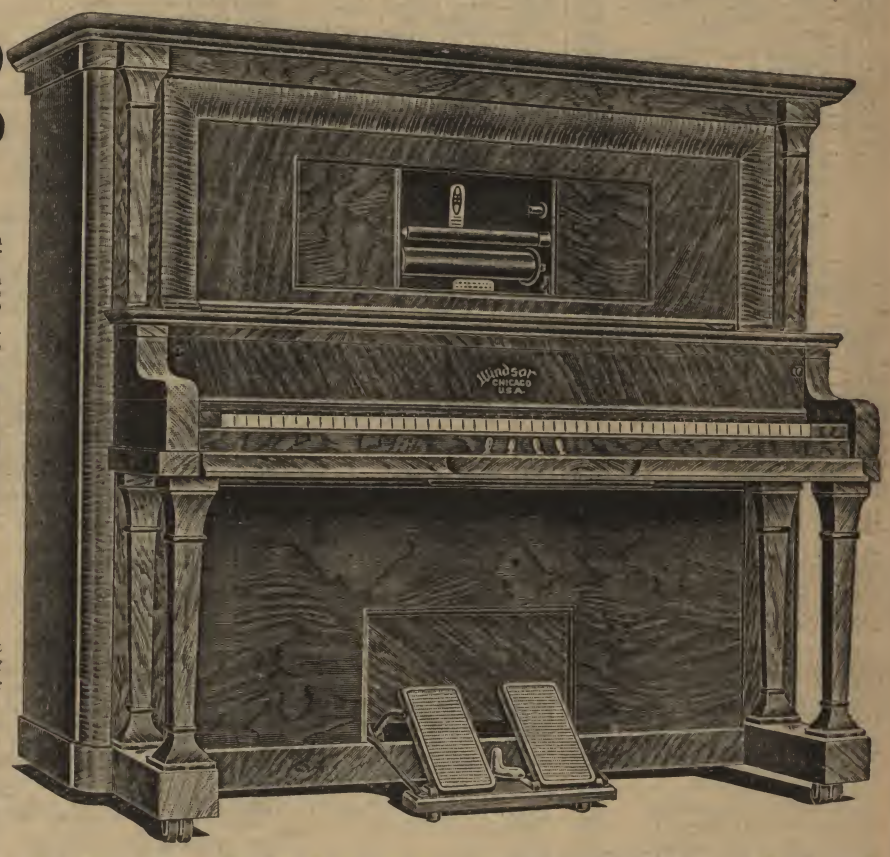
1—Flexible "human-like" fingers play as would the human hand; also prevent undue strain on the piano action.

2—Double primary pneumatics—the finest that can be made.

3—Reinforced feeders and reservoir, so constructed that they assist materially in bringing out the expression.

4—The bellows and wind-chest boards are of hardwood, veneered on both sides, preventing splits and cracks.

5—Improved five-point motor with governor, eliminating friction and making the movement of the music roll uniform and steady at all times.



6—Most unique treadle apparatus in existence. A movement of the foot folds them into the case, or replaces them for music roll playing in the same manner.

7—Mechanism can be removed from the case in a few minutes. All parts are interchangeable.

The Piano

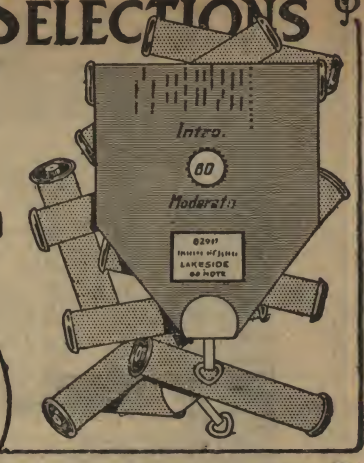
The Piano itself is a high grade instrument in every way, with the same superior points of construction that are found in all our Windsor line.

The case is made in a new special design, and is exceptionally attractive. It is constructed throughout of well seasoned hardwood, by the built-up process, so that it will not warp or split. The case is double veneered, with carefully selected and evenly matched American walnut, or rich dark mahogany veneers. All metal trimmings are solid brass. The finish is in keeping with that of all other Windsors. Only the best of wood-filler and piano varnish is used, and they are applied by experienced finishers, who know how to handle artistic woodwork. The tone of the Windsor Player-Piano leaves nothing to be desired. It is of a full, round, singing quality, beautifully clear in the middle and upper registers, and deep and powerful in the bass.

The Windsor Player Piano will be sent to you subject to thirty days' trial. We want you to try it in your own home. We want you to satisfy yourself that it is all we claim it to be; that it possesses every feature you would ask for in a high class instrument. If it satisfies you, keep it. If it disappoints you, send it back at our expense. We leave the whole matter to your judgment, confident of the verdict.

A more complete description of this instrument is given in our special Piano Catalogue.

The same guarantee goes with the Windsor Player Piano as with any Windsor Piano we sell. The Player action and the entire inner construction is so durable, and the instrument has given such perfect satisfaction to our customers, that we do not hesitate to back it with our iron clad guarantee.



Price includes combination piano and player bench, handsome velour scarf, 12 rolls of player music, your own selection from our list on following page, complete instruction book and certificate for music lessons at reduced rates as explained in special piano catalogue.

Windsor Organs

30 Days' Trial

In order that you may test our instruments for yourself, we will ship any Windsor Organ to any part of the United States proper on thirty days' trial. If not entirely satisfactory at the end of this time, it may be returned and we will refund your money together with all transportation charges.

Windsor is simply our own name, given to organs manufactured for us by one of the best makers of reed organs in the United States. Windsor Organs have been before the public for many years, and are favorably known from one end of the country to the other, both under the name Windsor, and under the name of the manufacturer.

Each piece of material entering into the construction of these instruments is selected with the utmost care. All wood is thoroughly air seasoned for years, and then kiln dried before it is ready for the factory. Windsor Organs are built by specialists from first to last. The men engaged in this work are experts. They have devoted years to the study and work of organ building. The combination of perfect materials and perfect workmanship has resulted in producing an organ that is a delight to all lovers of music. The tone of all Windsor Organs is a full, rich quality, very pleasing to the ear, and capable of great power. We urge those interested in the purchase of an organ to avail themselves of our 30 days' trial offer. The surest test of the worth and musical qualities of a Windsor Organ is to try it in your own home. Send for a Windsor Organ on trial, and let the instrument itself prove to you that it is all and more than we have claimed for it.

This is the Leader of our Organ Line. We know of no other organ manufactured today, with such purity, sweetness and volume of tone and magnificent appearance, that can be bought for anything like the price we ask for this instrument. Remember, an organ is something that you buy only once or twice in a lifetime. You want an instrument built for service, day in and day out, an organ that will stand even the none too gentle treatment of children, if necessary. The Windsor Parlor Organ meets this need. The tone, which is its most important feature, is produced from a double set of reeds, and in quality and power is unexcelled by any organ made with same number of reeds.

Finest Workmanship and Finish

Case. The case is remarkably handsome, of massive proportions. Made of highly seasoned genuine oak (veneer), in golden finish. The finish of an organ is of the utmost importance. It takes several coats of expensive varnish, applied by skilled workmen, to finish a Windsor Parlor Case. The Music Desk is very large, suitable for duet music, and is hung to give easy access to the music compartment. The elaborate and graceful carvings are all done by hand. Strong, carved columns support the top, which has been carefully designed so as not to appear too heavy. This is a fault quite common in some makes. The top is fitted with a large, round beveled, French-plate mirror; bric-a-brac shelves, and lamp stands. The case has double thickness projecting ends; heavy feet, fitted with smooth-running, hardwood rollers; iron axles; three-ply unbreakable back, solidly screwed to case and hinged, for convenient access to inside of Organ. Has ebonized nameboard and stop-knobs; genuine raised pattern mouldings; nickeled and polished pedal frames. The pedals are coverd with the best grade carpet.

Six Octaves—Double Set of Reeds
Eleven Stops

Action. The Action is the latest improved type, with eleven stops, six full octaves of keys, with ebonized sharps. It has 146 high-quality reeds, tuned and voiced by hand to exact international pitch.

The reeds are all heavy-tongued, double riveted, and hand filed, divided as follows: Twenty-four Principal reeds, Forty-nine Melodia reeds, Twenty-four Diapason reeds, and Forty-nine Celeste reeds. They are controlled by the following eleven stops: For the Bass, Diapason, Dulciana, Principal, Diapason Forte, Bass Coupler; for the Treble, Vox Humana, Melodia, Cremona, Celeste, Principal Forte, and Treble Coupler. The stops, together with the Grand Organ and Swell Organ knee swells, give perfect control over the instrument. They are conveniently located, and the stops may be drawn without lifting the fingers from the keys. The Windsor Parlor Organ is fitted with a Pneumatic Qualifying tremolo, which gives a beautiful wavy or quivery effect to the treble notes. Every moving part is felted to overcome any possibility of rattling.

Tone. The Tone is rich, clear, full and sweet. The organ may be played very soft and low, or with great volume and power, without disturbing the tone quality.

The Bellows are of large size, constructed in a way to supply a steady flow of air without jerking. They operate noiselessly.

A Stool, with revolving adjustable top, is sent without extra charge with each Organ.

Thirty Days' Trial

Our Free Trial Offer enables everyone who so desires to thoroughly try this organ at our expense. It must prove entirely satisfactory before you decide to keep it. If you live in the United States proper, and it does not come up to your expectations, send it back to us and we will refund your money on any Windsor Parlor Organ as well as pay the charges both ways. This trial offer is explained in full on a previous page.

With this organ we include a handsome adjustable Oak Veneered Stool, Instruction Book, and Certificate for Music Lessons as described above.

Orchestral Grand Organ

The Orchestral Grand Organ is one of our best selling numbers. Its popularity is partly due to its beauty of design and finish, but principally to its superb tone qualities. The ornamentations are modest and neatly executed, and the large French Plate Mirror effects, add greatly to its attractiveness.

Note the Superior Construction

The Case is a special model, made expressly for Montgomery Ward & Co. Made of selected oak with quarter sawed panels, finished in the popular golden color, highly varnished and thoroughly hand rubbed, with smooth surface polish.

The Base is substantially built, with heavy end pieces and concave mouldings at side. The cheeks or pieces at end of keyboard are of extra thickness, ornamented with fancy carvings and beaded front, supported by strong and neatly turned trusses. The lower front section is fitted with sunken panel, with fancy scalloped moulding around sides. The Pedals are set in strong frames, covered with Brussels carpet and protected with a fancy metal-bound footrest.

The Top is finely constructed, as well as handsomely designed. It is a very stylish canopy pattern. Upper section is elaborately hand carved and is supported by four substantial pilasters, turned and finished to match the trusses. It is also fitted with one large beveled French plate mirror in center, size 10x22 in., with fancy top, and two oval mirrors at sides, size of each, 8x16 inches.

The Music Desk is of an ornamental pattern with carving at top; has receptacle underneath for music, and lamp protectors at sides.

The Finish of the organ is in keeping with its artistic appearance. Four coats of the best varnish are applied, each being rubbed down with pumice stone, rotten stone and oil, and finely hand polished. This process forms a lasting finish, which requires but little care to keep it always bright.

Grand Orchestral Actions

The Orchestral Grand Action used in this organ, particularly the large 17-Stop combination, is not only powerful in volume, but is voiced in such a manner as to produce a pure tone of great carrying quality. The complete stop-action affords the organist an exceedingly wide range in tone shading. Besides, the most perfect harmonic combinations are possible. We can furnish this organ in either five or six octaves.

The Tone of the Orchestral Grand Organ is its most desirable and fascinating feature. It is fitted with a perfect action or music making combination, a large but easy action bellows and a quick, responsive keyboard. We list this organ in four different styles, but the variation in price is due entirely to the compass of the keyboard and to the size of the actions used. We recommend under all circumsances the larger reed combinations, as it enables the organist to render all grades of music, in a more artistic manner than with the smaller sizes. The stops and knee swells are of the latest improved style, quick and accurate, and conveniently arranged.

The Windsor Piano Organ, as its name indicates, consists of a regular organ or reed action (no strings), put up in a piano case. It combines the rich, deep tone of the organ with the attractive appearance of the Upright Piano.

With this Piano Organ we include a Veneered Stool, Instruction Book and Scarf

General Specifications and Equipment

The Case is a perfect reproduction of the modern upright piano, plainly finished and richly polished. It is substantially built throughout of solid wood, outside veneered all over with five-ply cross-banded mahogany or walnut veneers of the best quality. It is finished in rich, dark color. The end pieces are of good thickness, with beaded front corners. Has large, sunken lower front panel, and is mounted on heavy casters. The upper front section is neatly finished with pilasters to match trusses, and three-quarter swinging music rack at bottom.

Tone—Besides a substantial, graceful and well finished exterior, the Windsor Organ has the proper quality, power and variety of tone. In this important respect it has few equals. It combines the three principal qualities of tone found in the great Pipe Organs, namely: String, Reed and Wind (flute).

The Bellows and Pedals—Our Bellows and Pedal Action is one of the best ever invented. A child large enough to reach the pedals from the organ stool can operate the bellows with perfect ease. There are no straps to stretch and wear out, and no lost motion. The Pedal is one solid piece of iron, bent upward (inside of case) to a point where it is connected onto the lifter. The Pedals (outside) are shaped exactly like piano pedals, and are nickel plated, as is also the pedal guard.

Reed Combination and Stop Action—The Windsor Piano Organ has three sets of broad reeds—two sets of seven and one-third octaves each, and one set of five and one-fifth octaves, or 244 reeds in all; six stops and octave couplers, the latter being operated by the middle pedal. By the use of the six stops and middle pedal coupler, eight distinct and beautiful combinations can be obtained.

It has a double rolling fall board with continuous nickel plated hinges. The Keyboard has a compass of 7½ octaves, with imitation ivory keys, ebonized sharps.

Concertone Violins

Rich, Clear Tone

Our line of Violins comprises the product of some of the world's best makers. It is without question the finest assortment, price considered, we ever offered. This refers not only to the variety of models represented but also to the quality of material used, the careful workmanship each instrument receives, the beauty of finish, and above all, the superior tone quality which is found even in the most inexpensive numbers.

The selection of our Violins is made by an expert buyer, who, by training and long experience, is capable of judging tone values down to the finest degree.

Our Trial Offer

Our Trial Offer—We ship every Violin subject to a trial of ten days in your own home, if you reside in any part of the United States proper. During this time you are at liberty to give it a thorough test, and if not found satisfactory you are not obliged to accept it.

Our Guarantee—In addition to our general Guarantee, on the inside cover of this catalogue, every Violin is guaranteed against defects in material or workmanship for a period of one year. We agree to repair any Violin that may show any defects during this period and pay transportation charges both ways.

A Word About the Construction of Our Violins

The Value of a Violin as a musical instrument depends entirely upon the material and workmanship. As the chief components are various woods with special resonant qualities, the selection requires the greatest care. The wood must pass through a long seasoning process, which in our medium and best grades, requires years in the open air, as well as a final kiln drying, in order to put the materials in the best possible condition.

The Workmanship—In order to build a Violin of the correct proportions, inside and out, to produce a full rich tone that will improve rapidly with age, requires not only a thorough knowledge of the art, but long and practical experience. Our Violins are made by experts, who know exactly how to construct each part to get an instrument with the purest tone and greatest carrying power.

Each Violin is carefully tested, and unless the tone, workmanship, and finish measure up to our standard in every requirement, it is promptly rejected.

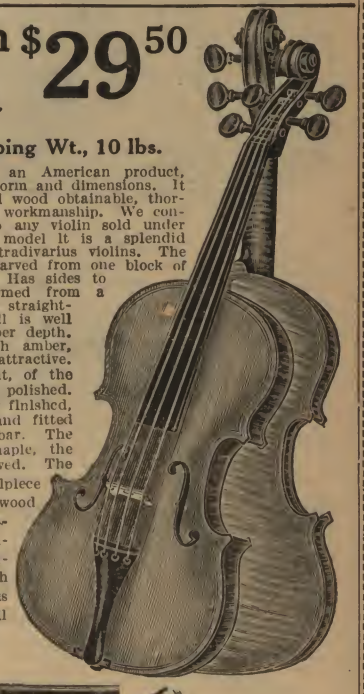
American Stradivarius — $21.00

51B6330



Shipping Wt., 8 lbs.

This violin is a copy of one of the best Stradivarius models. The body is of extreme width, which gives the greatest possible vibrating surface to the front and back (or sounding boards), hence its wonderful tone. The back is made from selected, highly seasoned maple, with broad, irregular grain, two-piece construction. Has sides to match. Top is made from very old resonant spruce, with straight, narrow grain. Both top and back are carefully worked down from the center, so that the middle is nicely arched, and the shell is given the proper depth at bridge. Edges are slightly raised, all inlaid with double row of black purfling. The "F" holes are neatly cut and notched in center. The oil varnish is a medium amber color, beautifully shaded, and given a brilliant French polish. The neck is also made of maple, neatly tapered, and has perfectly carved scroll. The pegs, fingerboard and tailpiece are made of fine grained, hard-boxwood with a black ebony finish. The interior of violin is full lined and blocked, fitted with bass bar and sound post.

Earl of Wilton Violin

51B6340 [Shipping Wt., 10 Pounds $26.50

The Earl of Wilton violin, illustrated here bears a strong resemblance, not only in tone quality but in general appearance, to one of the real Cremonas.

The violin is a perfect copy of the famous Amati violin known in the music world as the Earl of Wilton. The maker, Ernst Heinrich Roth has not only perfectly reproduced the model, general appearance and color, but has also carefully graduated the outer and inner surface of the shell to correspond as nearly as possible to the original. It possesses a full round tone of wonderful carrying power and sweetness. The wood from which it is made is of the best quality. The top is made from very old, straight-grained spruce. The back is made of one-piece of flamed maple with sides to match. The model is of the proper proportions, of good depth through the center. Kubelik Violin Guarnerius Model

51B6342 Shipping Wt., 10 Pounds $35.00

This violin is an artistic reproduction of the famous Kubelik violin. It is of the well known Guarnerius model, of rather large proportion. The finish and workmanship show at a glance that it is the product of a master-builder. The materials have been carefully seasoned for years, and finally kiln dried.

Norway Spruce Top. Back and sides are beautifully figured maple. The shell has extra depth, and is full blocked and lined inside. The color is a shaded red, covered with an oil varnish. The violin is finished to imitate the old Cremona, as it appears after having been used for many years. In other words, instead of the high polish usually given the German violins, the Kubelik has a dull finish. Some parts of the body, particularly where the chin rests on the shell, appear to be worn with age and use. It has a curly maple neck, with scroll neatly worked out, and full ebony fingerboard, pegs and tail piece. The tone is rich and clear, well adapted for solo or orchestra playing, requiring only a little practical use to place it in the highest class.

Outfit consists of one case, covered with waterproof Keratol, finished in imitation of black pebbled leather. One finely balanced and tapered Brazil wood bow. Extra set of fine gut strings. One violin chin rest One complete Instruction Book. One collection of "Popular Violin Pieces," with piano accompaniment. One set tuning pipes, E, A, D, G. One box of resin. One fingerboard chart. One Partial Scholarship Certificate.

Guitar Zither

The Guitar Zither is an improved German Zither. The air or melody is played on the treble strings with right hand. The Bass notes are tuned in groups of chords, and are played with the left hand. As an accompaniment to the voice or in connection with the violin, piano or other musical instruments, the guitar-zither is especially pleasing.

Autoharp

The Autoharp is so simple that anyone can produce perfect chords on it, without any knowledge, whatever, of music. The patent attachment, consisting of three or more bars, is placed directly over the strings, and is so constructed that when either bar is pressed down, only the strings needed for the chord are left free to vibrate, all the others being stopped or deadened.

The Celestaphone

The Latest Musical Novelty

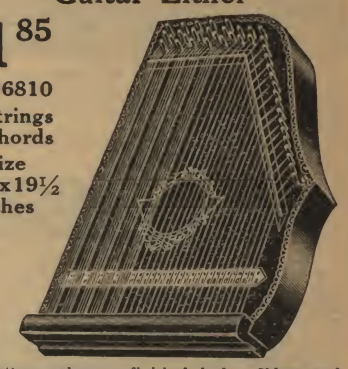
51B6808

The Celestaphone is the latest thing in the musical line. It is really two instruments, Mandolin and Guitar in one. Any person, even a child with a musical ear, without special training can play it very readily with a few hours' practice. It is a keyboard instrument, and like a piano, is played by the pressure of the fingers on the keys. It has a wood body or sounding box, like that of a Zither, but across the lower end is a series of hammers of light steel spring, fitted with a metal head. These hammers can be depressed sharply, so as to produce but a single note, or they can be held down with the finger, producing a trill as perfect as that produced by an expert mandolinist. The keys are played with the right hand, while the left hand plays the accompaniment. The strings are arranged in pairs, like the mandolin; but while the mandolin has only four pairs, the Celestaphone has fifteen, and no fingering is required. In addition, it has four sets of guitar chords, producing a most pleasing accompaniment.



With every instrument we furnish a selection of music, so arranged that every note is placed right over the strings to be played. This makes it possible for an inexperienced person to become an accomplished player in a very short time. These charts include a great variety of selections. Each instrument is finely finished and polished, neatly ornamented. Packed in a strong box. Complete with tuning key, chord pick, charts for playing and a full set of instructions. Width, 13¾ in. Length, 20 in. Weight, 8 lbs.

Metronomes

Shipping weight, about 2½ lbs.

The Metronome is an instrument used by the students of music to indicate the tempo or time of the different movements in music. The upright metal rod moves backwards and forwards like an inverted pendulum. The movement is actuated by a spring, which is wound up with a key. Pendulum is fitted with a sliding weight which, moved up or down, regulates its velocity. A scale stencilled Andante, Adagio, Largo, etc., shows the proper position of the weight, so it will beat the correct time for these different movements.

The time is indicated both to the eye and ear. The movement being in sight and ticking of pendulum, which is similar to that of a clock, only louder, can easily be heard. The cases are made of hardwood in a rich, dark mahogany finish and highly polished. The mechanism is made of the best materials and is accurately adjusted as a clock. All our Metronomes are built on the Maelzel System, which is the best. Height, 8½ in.

"MADE IN AMERICA"
Brass Band Instruments

TO BANDMEN:

In presenting for your consideration our new line of Made in America Band Instruments, we wish it understood first of all that we are not offering anything in the way of an experiment. In other words, this complete line is manufactured expressly for Montgomery Ward & Company by a well known concern, considered by Bandmen and the trade generally, as producers of the highest grade Band Instruments in this or any other country.

The Material used is the very best obtainable, and the Workmanship is of the highest class.

The Models as shown by the illustrations, are attractive and of standard design. The Valve Action is unsurpassed by the very highest priced instruments on the market today.

Our Prices are low, considering the grade of instruments we furnish and represent the actual factory cost with our small profit added.

Remember, you are not obliged to accept our statement as to the high quality of these splendid instruments. All we ask is an opportunity to convince you as to their musical value by allowing you to give them a thorough trial of 10 days in your own home; or with the other instruments in the band. If you are not satisfied that the instruments are all we claim that they are, you are under no obligations to keep them.

The High Standard of these instruments is made possible through a special system of manufacturing, which is so highly developed, that it has no superior in the band instrument industry. Briefly stated, every Band Instrument in this line, from the Sweet-Toned B Flat Cornet and the Mellow Baritone to the Monster E Flat Bass, is positively equal in richness of tone, accuracy of scale, quality of materials, workmanship, ease in blowing and durability to the best and highest priced Brass Instruments made, regardless of name.

In addition to our gencral guarantee shown on front cover we guarantee every Instrument for one year against any imperfections in material or workmanship. Should the instrument develop any defects within this period, we agree to repair it Free of All Expense to You.

Our Made in America Brass Instruments go to you precisely as shown in illustration without our firm name or trade mark.

The Famous Pathe

No More Perfect Reproducing Records Made

By a special arrangement with Pathé Frères of Paris, the famous Moving Picture Manufacturers, we are now offering to our customers Pathé's Disc Records, pronounced by experts as the most perfect reproducing record made.

Pathé Discs are made of a new composition. They can be played hundreds of times without showing any perceptible wear, because instead of a sharp pointed needle, such as is used on other records—Pathé's Discs use a smooth round Sapphire ball which need never be changed. This Sapphire ball rides up and down the groove, evenly and smoothly, with practically no friction or wear.

Pathé Discs are played from the center towards the outside rim, which is the natural way for the tone arm to move.

Double Disc Records

Choice Selections by the World's Greatest Artists

Pathé Records bring to your home the talent of the world's great musicians. One minute you can listen to the famous Westminster Choir of London and the next to the Garde Republicaine Band, or a Dreamy Waltz by the Hungarian Orchestra. If you like songs, Harry Lauder will sing some of his popular Scotch selections or Giorgini, a solo from some famous opera.

There are two selections to each record, one on either side, and these have been chosen with great care so that both will be pleasing. If one side is grand opera the other will be grand opera music or music similar to it by the same musicians or soloists. You will never find classical music on one side and ragtime on the other, as you so often do on other double disc records. Shipping weights: 11½ inch single record, 1½ lbs.; dozen, 13 lbs.; 14 inch single record, 3 lbs.; dozen, 26 lbs.

53B4263—Extra Batteries 25c
Shipping weight, 2 oz.

This is a radical departure in instruments for the relief of moderate deafness. Works on the same principle as a telephone. Operated by a small, compact dry battery which intensifies the natural sounds. Battery is carried in the vest pocket or inside the waist. The transmitter or sound-gathering part of the instrument is worn out of sight under the coat or waist. Its sensitiveness to sound is remarkable. The earpiece or receiver may be held in the hand when used by a man, or, when worn by a woman, it may be concealed under the hair by means of a light head device which is part of every outfit.

May be worn at church, lectures, theatres, public gatherings, etc., and not detected. Sensitive persons, especially, appreciate this device because of the small, yet powerful apparatus which can be so easily concealed. For a strictly high-class hearing aid we strongly recommend this apparatus. This is the same ear phone that is sold throughout the country for as high as $40.00, and is giving extreme satisfaction.

The tube is of metal, and practically indestructible.

HAIR BRUSHES - ALL KINDS - BEST QUALITIES - LOWEST PRICES

The wearing quality of a Brush and, therefore, the satisfaction it gives, depends on the quality of bristles, the way they are fastened to the back, and the quality of the back. The best wearing brushes are those with the bristles hand-drawn in a solid back. This feature is found in even our lower priced brushes. The higher the price, the better the brush. Buy as good a brush as you can afford. Every brush on this page represents unusual quality and value for the price. The brushes represent the best domestic and foreign manufactures, and our prices average about 30 per cent less than usual retail prices.

FOR VARICOSE VEINS, the compression of an elastic stocking is a necessity to prevent rupture of the veins and the ulceration which might follow. These stockings and pieces are also largely used to protect the limbs after having been broken. The materials used are excellent, the silk being of exceptional quality, heavy strands. In the cotton stockings and pieces the material is of fine, long fibre variety. All of the elastic used is covered, assuring comfort and long wear.

Take measurements carefully at places indicated by each letter in the illustration. Be sure to give the length from the lowest letter to the highest. For example: For a garter stocking you would take the circumference at A, B, C, D, and E; also the length from floor to E, inside of limb.

For stockings extending above and below the knee, be sure to take circumference at F; also length from lowest point to F, and from F to highest point. For thigh and knee cap give circumference at E, F, G, H, and I. For hand piece, give circumference at U, V, W, and length from U to W, also state whether for right or left hand. Give us the exact measurements—which should be taken, if possible, in the morning when the limbs are the least swollen.

Give exact measurements to the smallest fraction of an inch. We will allow for expansion when weaving the piece. It requires three or four days' time for making the piece, in addition to the regular time required for shipping.

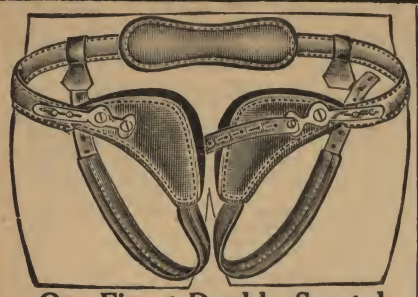
High Grade Trusses - Spring or Elastic

Our trusses are the product of some of America's leading truss manufacturers—concerns that have made a specialty of appliances for the relief of rupture. In selecting this line of trusses for our customers we have kept two things in mind: comfort and durability. In order to do the work properly a truss must fit snugly and follow every movement of the body without binding. And, in order to be economical a truss must wear.

Our spring trusses are equipped with springs of the finest tempered American steel, trimmed with soft and durable leather. The elastic trusses are made of a weave that insures comfort and service.



The feature of our trusses is the new Velvo pad—a rubber-like composition that has all the power of a hard pad combined with the comfort and ease of the finest water pad.

How to Order Trusses

Trusses are carried in even sizes from 30 to 44 inch measurements for adults. Children's sizes from 14 to 28 inch measurements. Sizes larger than 44 at an additional cost.

To measure, take a tape line and pass around body on exact line with rupture. This will give size needed. Waist measure is not correct. If rupture is on one side a single truss is needed. If on both sides, a double truss must be used.

53B6065—Double. Price 7.65

This truss was originated to meet the demand of those who wanted a high grade truss built on a scientific principle. Dr. King's truss combines the best features of the old trusses with a new principle. It does away with the strap between the legs. It gives the exact inward and upward pressure on the rupture that is so much desired by truss fitters. This can only be obtained in the older trusses by pulling the band around the body so tight that it is unpleasant. Accomplished with Dr. King's Truss by means of a hinged spring, the forward part of which has a lever action. A strip of webbing attached firmly to the back center regulates this lever so that you can easily adjust it to give the desired pressure. This special feature removes all the pressure from around the body and places it upon the pad only, where it belongs. Part of the body band is of the finest elastic in order to increase the comfort of daily wear. A large pad, covered with soft, durable leather, insures comfort in the center of the back. The spring is made of the finest American steel, nickel plated where exposed, covered parts of finest soft, durable leather. The pad is our famous Velvo, adjustable.

The directions for fitting Dr. King's Special Truss are simple: Just bend the spring slightly into shape if necessary to fit more snugly to the lines of the body. Then adjust the lever strap until the desired pressure is obtained.

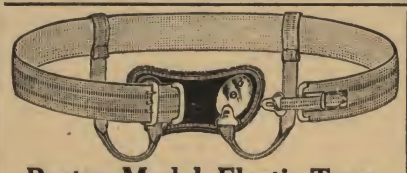
This board was authorized to designate the style of truss best suited for such disability. The board being in session a number of days making a careful examination of the different styles of trusses, reported to congress as follows:



Extract from Report of Board of Medical Officers convened to examine samples of Trusses.

* * * "The Board is of the opinion that the principles (viz.: those which belong to a proper truss) are best carried out by the Common Sense Truss, samples of which were submitted by Dr. Parker, of Chicago. * * * They are therefore recommended by the Board as those best adapted, in their opinion, for the purposes indicated in the act of Congress, entitled An Act to provide for Furnishing Trusses, etc."

Scabolin Dip is the highest type of creosote or coal tar dips for the dipping of sheep, hogs and cattle. The use of creosote dip exceeds that of all other dips combined. Ticks, scabs, and other animal parasites and cattle diseases are removed by the intelligent use of Scabolin Dip. It can be used diluted, 1 part to 73 of water, in a dipping vat or trench, or it can be sprayed on the animals. Where a number of animals are to be treated, the dipping vat is more practical. Requires less labor. Is more thorough, as the animal is submerged in the liquid. The spraying can be done where only a few heads are to be treated, when it can be repeated frequently.

M. W. & Co. Famous Brand Fertilizers

Before Using Famous Brand

The constantly advancing price of land makes it necessary for every farmer to improve the quality of his crops and to grow more bushels on every acre if he is to make the interest on the money invested in his farm.

Many farms are not yielding like they did a few years ago. It proves that continually cropping, without returning the plant food, annually removed by each crop, will eventually reduce the fertility of the soil to such an extent that profitable crops cannot be grown.

Thousands of farmers are building up their farms by modern methods, good drainage, good tillage, tested seed, crop rotation (which includes clover or some other legume turned under every three or four years), barn manure, green crops turned under and commercial fertilizer. While crop rotation should be practiced, it is the quickest and surest method of depleting soil fertility if the crops are sold off the farm.

Clover will add nitrogen to the soil if the tops and all are plowed under, but clover does not add to the supply of phosphoric acid and potash already in the soil. If your soil is "clover sick," apply two or thre tons of ground limestone per acre once every four or five years.

Balance up the manure with a fertilizer containing relatively small quantities of nitrogen and potash and a large quantity of phosphoric acid. The plant food in manure is not properly balanced, as it is deficient in phosphoric acid, the element of plant food which matures the crop and which makes solid, heavy grain. It is the nitrogen that makes the growth; phosphoric acid forms the grain and hastens maturity; potash makes the starch and stiffens the straw.

By keeping these facts in mind and by observing the characteristics of your crop, you can select the fertilizer which is adapted to your soil and to your crop.

It is conceded that bone, blood and tankage, animal matter, is the most valuable source of plant food. When you apply the Famous Brand Fertilizer you are returning to the soil the plant food that was removed in the grain. The blending of the various materials of which Famous Brand Fertilizer is made is constantly under the supervision of expert chemists. The most modern machinery is used in making the Famous Brand Fertilizer. So thorough is the mixing process that every ounce of the mixture carries its correct proportion of plant food. You will realize the importance of this when you consider, even when applying fertilizer at the rate of 300 lbs. per acre, that it is impossible to detect the fertilizer after it has been applied. It is very essential that each plant be fed with plant food in just the correct proportion.

Commercial fertilizers long ago passed the experimental stage. Constantly increasing demand for them proves that they enable the farmers to make a good profit on their money invested. State Experiment Stations recommend the use of fertilizer. As evidence of the estimation in which they are held we reproduce herewith a paragraph that appeared in Indiana Experiment Station Bulletin No. 174:

"Notwithstanding statements from some authorities to the contrary, the increased consumption of commercial fertilizer in this state is not due to a philanthropic desire on the part of the farmers to patronize those who have fertilizer to sell, but to the fact that its use has been found profitable; local conditions remaining favorable there is every indication that the sales this year will be largely in excess of those of last year.

Make your farm do its best. Use Famous Brand Fertilizers on every acre you plant and make a big profit on your farm this year.

After Using Famous Brand

After preparing the soil and just before planting, drill or broadcast 300 to 400 pounds of Famous Brand Fertilizer per acre. Many farmers seed their clover with oats or wheat; when Famous Brand Fertilizers are used a good clover catch is almost assured.

Wheat strengthened by Famous Brand Fertilizer withstands the ravages of the fly, rust, etc., much better than unfertilized grain.

OURS IS A QUALITY BUSINESS

Contrary to prevailing ideas, we are built more largely on quality than on almost any other one thing. Our business has grown because the merchandise was good; because it served its intended purpose and gave satisfaction. True, our prices have been remarkably low always, but our prices have been attractive principally because the quality of our goods was so high. The two are inseparable. Only that is really cheap which is really good. Giving you quality goods is daily becoming an easier thing for us to do because we are continually getting stronger in the merchandise markets of the world, where we can demand more and get more in the way of quality than is possible where volume such as ours is not back of the demands made upon the producer.

Eating is one of the three things you must do—the other two are: Keeping busy, and getting plenty of sleep.

Making the most of your grocery money should be a study with every housewife—it probably is. A good many families keep their food limited to too small a variety, simply because to go outside of a certain limit seems to mean greatly increased expenses for the table. In many cases, that would be true. If you really want to put a dollar to the test and see how much it will really buy in good groceries, you should write for our Grocery List—a new one every 2 months. Filled from cover to cover with good things to eat; all the needs of the table and pantry; with delicious recipes; valuable household hints, and specially timely offers on goods you need. The Reliance Visible Typewriter

Equal to the Best at Half the Cost

$48.50

Standard Features of the Reliance

1. Writing is visible at all times.
2. Standard keyboard, with one shift, same as used on all the best machines.
3. Standard 1/8 inch key depression, which gives greatest speed with least effort.
4. Light-running, ball-bearing carriage.
5. Rapid Escapement. Doubling up or lapping of letters impossible.
6. Light shift key action.
7. Easily adjusted marginal stops.
8. Back spacer key, the same as on all other standard machines.

Standard Features of the Reliance

9. Six or more tabulator stops make the Reliance especially adapted for billing and other commercial work.
10. Positive line lock prevents any doubling up of letters at end of line.
11. Adjustable paper table, and feed roller make possible the insertion of bulky papers.
12. Key strikes a quick, hard blow, enabling operator to make from 8 to 10 carbon copies at one time.

All the Best Features of the Seven Standard Machines Combined in One

More than forty years of constant experiment, coupled with the experience of hundreds of thousands of expert operators, has at last reduced the essential features of all leading machines to an exact standard.

There are at least six basic principles that are now agreed upon by all typewriter experts as absolutely necessary in the construction of a machine of the highest speed and efficiency.

These features are found on all of the seven recognized standard machines on the market today, and no typewriter that does not possess them can be truthfully called a standard.

These features are as follows:

1. Visible writing. On all standard machines the letter is plainly visible the instant the key is struck.
2. Standard keyboard, consisting of four rows of keys with one shift.

   There are three keyboards in use at the present time—the Standard, with one shift; the Double Standard, with no shift; and the three-row keyboard, with two shifts. The Standard is now almost universally conceded to be the simplest, fastest and most convenient, and is used on all but one of the seven best machines. This machine uses the double keyboard, with no shifts. The present tendency is clearly to get away from the three-row keyboard. The standard keyboard is endorsed and taught by 95 per cent of the commercial colleges in the United States.
3. A fixed distance for the keys to travel. The experience of expert operators on all kinds of machines has finally determined on 9/16 of an inch as the proper amount of key depression. To increase the key travel, even 1/8 of an inch, means that the hands must travel that extra distance thousands of times each day. To stop the key short of this distance gives the fingers a shock that is even more tiresome. The key does not rebound as readily, and the action loses its elasticity. High speed operators all appreciate this very important point. It is interesting to note that all speed and endurance contests have for years been won by standard machines with 9/16-inch key depression and four rows of keys.
4. Light shift key action. When rapidly operating a machine, nothing is more tiring than to continually strike a hard-acting shift key. It gives an unpleasant jar to the nerves, tires the wrist and finger muscles, and seriously lessens the speed of the machine. All standard machines have easy, light shift key action.
5. A light-running carriage is absolutely necessary to a high speed machine. If it is heavy and does not run on the best of bearings, it makes the key action hard, and takes considerable effort to move it back at the beginning of each line. This all has a tendency to tire the operator, and decrease the speed. All standard machines have light-running carriages.
6. Rapid escapement. The escapement is the mechanism which automatically releases the carriage after each letter is printed, and permits it to move on the proper distance to receive the next. This must be both rapid and accurate. It must be quick enough in its action to prevent any doubling up or lapping of letters, and accurate enough to keep them equally spaced.

The Reliance Typewriter combines all of these standard features with many exclusive improvements of its own. It is equipped to do any kind of work that can be done on the most expensive typewriter. From every standpoint it is a standard machine and is identical in its general construction to the typewriters used in 95 per cent of the business houses of this country. The only difference is in the price.

The Reliance is a Sturdy, Reliable Machine That Meets Every Business Need

The Reliance is an open front, visible typewriter, similar in size, design, appearance, and mechanical features to the other widely advertised standard machines.

It has a light, easy and uniform touch. The action is quick and practically noiseless. It is compact, with all keys, shifts and levers within easy reach of the operator. It turns out clean, accurate work with the least effort, and can be operated easily by the beginner as well as by the expert. In short, it embodies all that is best in typewriter construction, is absolutely dependable, and will prove a credit to any office.

The Reliance is essentially a business typewriter, designed to meet every business need. With its standard construction, light, quick action, durability and many time-saving attachments for billing, invoicing, manifolding, etc., it is an ideal machine for use in big offices; while its extreme simplicity and ease of operation make it equally well suited for the man who does his own typing without the aid of an expert stenographer.

The Reliance is simply constructed, easy to understand and easy to keep in condition. There are no superfluous parts. The complicated adjustments which are a complete mystery to the users of so many other machines, and which call for the repair man so often, are entirely missing from the Reliance.

It is strongly constructed throughout. The type bars and other working parts are made from superior tool steel, and are practically indestructible. The Reliance will stand hard usage and continuous service as well as any typewriter made.

We have had Reliance Typewriters in constant operation in our store for months. They have been used on all kinds of work by experienced operators, and have been subjected to harder tests than you would probably ever put them to. Not only have they compared favorably with the other machines we are using, but their work has been so satisfactory that we have decided to use them exclusively in all our stores. This is the strongest evidence we can offer as to the writing qualities and durability of the Reliance.

The Reliance is not an experiment. Under a well known, widely advertised trade name, it has been on the market for years, and those who have used it are enthusiastic in its praise.

Thirty Days' Trial

Let us send you one of these splendid machines on 30 days' trial. Set it beside any other standard typewriter. Compare them point by point, feature by feature. Notice the touch, the action, the quality of the work, the ease of operation. Try the Reliance on any kind of work. Use it for billing, invoicing, manifolding or stencil work. Put it to any test you see fit. And if at the end of 30 days it does not prove entirely satisfactory—if it is not all that we claim it to be, or if it does not compare favorably with any $100.00 machine, you may return it at our expense, and your money will be promptly refunded, if you reside in any part of the United States proper.

So great is our confidence in the Reliance that we are willing to take all the risk in order that you may give it a thorough trial.

No one can offer you a better or more reliable machine. No one is today selling so good a typewriter for the same money. You will make a serious mistake if you buy without first examining the Reliance.

Guaranteed for One Year

We guarantee every Reliance Typewriter to reach you in perfect working condition. We will replace, free of all charge, any part that proves defective, either in material or workmanship, within one year from date of sale.

Special Typewriter Catalogue

You can safely order a typewriter direct from this page and be assured that every machine will give you satisfactory service. If, however, you should want more complete information before ordering, send for our special Typewriter Catalogue. It gives you a detailed description of every part, and shows you the many superior points in its construction. It shows the special features of the Reliance, tells you of the many kinds of work you can do with it, and fully explains our economical selling methods that enable us to make such a low price on this standard machine. This Catalogue mailed to you on request.

The Only Standard Typewriter Sold for Less than $75.00

With the single exception of the Reliance, there is not a strictly standard machine on the market today at less than $75.00. It alone meets the steadily increasing demand for a moderate priced typewriter, with all the standard features.

The Reliance costs just as much to produce as any machine made. It is made of just as good materials. It is finished with the same care. It has all the modern improvements, and all the latest time and labor saving attachments, as we have shown you in the preceding paragraphs. In writing efficiency, in durability, and in appearance, it is easily the equal of any of the seven standard machines which are sold the country over at $100.00; and as a matter of fact, it actually is one of these seven machines.

No typewriter is intrinsically worth $100.00, yet most standard machines are sold at this figure. This high price is made necessary by the elaborate and costly sales system, which most manufacturers employ—a system which adds greatly to the cost of any machine, but adds nothing to its value. Under our direct, economical selling methods, this needless expense is entirely eliminated.

We have no salesmen—employ no agents, maintain no branch offices. Thus, our selling cost is reduced to a minimum, and we are able to sell you a typewriter for $48.50 that would cost you $97.50, if purchased through the ordinary sales channels.

With every Reliance Typewriter we include:

SPECIAL FEATURES of the RELIANCE THAT PROVE ITS SUPERIORITY

WRITING VISIBLE AT ALL TIMES

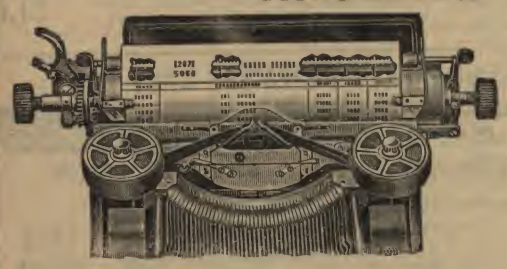
All standard machines are visible writers, but none give a clearer view of the writing line than the Reliance. The open construction, which is one of our special features, leaves nothing between the eyes of the operator and the printing point.

The writing line is high, and in plain view of the operator at all times. Each letter is visible the instant the key is struck, and remains so as long as the paper is in the machine. Thus any errors are easily detected, and can be corrected the minute they are made. This adds greatly to the speed of the operator, and the neatness and accuracy of the work.

The Reliance has the standard keyboard, with four rows of keys, and one shift. This is exactly the same as is found on all of the best typewriters today. It is the fastest, simplest, and most convenient key arrangement ever devised. On this point all typewriter experts are agreed.

The standard keyboard is used in 90 per cent of the business establishments of the United States today. It is endorsed and taught by practically every commercial school and business college. It is the choice of expert operators everywhere, and has won every speed and endurance contest in recent years.

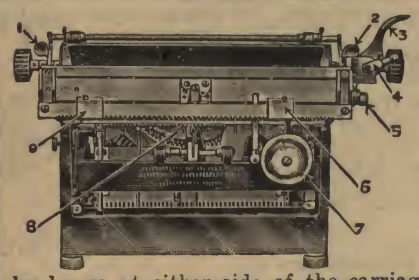
STANDARD FOUR-ROW KEYBOARD



The Reliance keyboard has 88 characters and letters. These include all the letters of the English alphabet, the common punctuation marks, the numerals, (including fractions), and all the accent marks needed to write, without adjustment, any of the following foreign languages: French, German, Spanish, Portuguese, Italian, Swedish, Norwegian, Danish, and Hungarian. For languages like Greek and Russian you can buy an extra type basket and insert in machine, as explained in another paragraph, thus doubling the usefulness of your typewriter.

The Reliance Keyboard is compact, and every key and lever is within easy reach of the operator.

The Shift Keys, two in number, are placed at either side of the keyboard, where they can be conveniently reached with either hand. Directly below the left hand shift key is the Shift Lock. When struck, this automatically shifts and locks, so that capitals may be written without any adjustment whatever. It is released by striking the shift key directly above it.



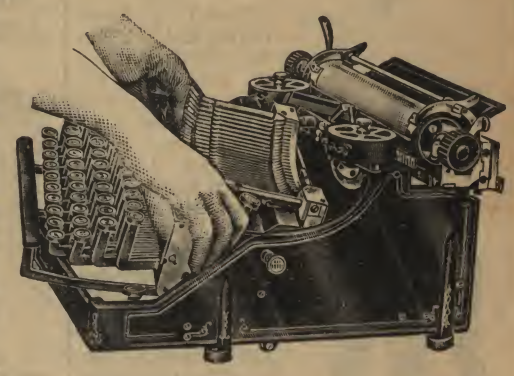
Back Space Key. This time-saving device is located at the left of the keyboard, and allows you to reverse the movement of the carriage—moving it back one space at a time. It is very convenient in making corrections, and enables you to put in missing letters at exactly the right point.

TABULATOR KEY

Tabulator Key. If a typewriter is to be used for commercial work, such as billing, invoicing, or indexing, a tabulator is indispensable. The Reliance Tabulator consists of a bar at the back of carriage, graduated to correspond with the scale on front of machine. This bar is fitted with six tabulator stops (No. 8) which may be arranged at the convenience of the operator. A slight pressure on the tabulator key at the right of keyboard will cause the carriage to slide along rail until it reaches one of these stops, where it will be automatically locked. You can then write in the desired column. By pressing key again, the carriage will be released and will slide along to the next stop.

BALL-BEARING CARRIAGE

Ball Bearing Carriage. The Reliance carriage is light in weight, yet very strongly constructed. It runs on eight ball bearings, is perfectly rigid, and free from vibration. The printing point is supported by a third rail in addition to the bearings, thus giving added strength where it is most needed.



The Carriage Release is controlled by levers at either side of the carriage (Nos. 1 and 2) convenient to either hand of the operator.

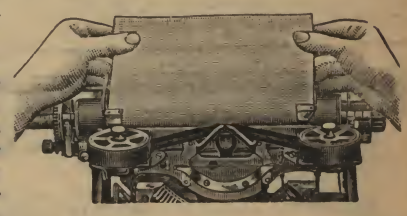
Line Space Adjuster (No. 4) is found at the left of the carriage. This is adjustable to one, two, or three spaces, as desired. Line space Lever (No. 3) is automatic in its action, one motion bringing the carriage back to the beginning of a new line, and turning the roller around the correct number of spaces. The ratchet on the roller can be instantly released by turning the little knob (No. 5) just below the line space lever. This will permit you to turn the roller to any position, whether equal spaces or not, and is indispensable for writing on ruled paper.

The Line Lock stops the carriage at the end of each line, prevents any writing after marginal stop (Nos. 6 and 9) is reached, and makes the doubling up of letters impossible. Bell rings 5 spaces before marginal stop is reached. By pressing marginal key (same as tabular key) you can release this lock and write in margin.

REMOVABLE KEYBOARD AND TYPE BASKET

Removable, Independent Keyboard. The most important special feature of the Reliance is its removable keyboard. By simply lifting the key marked Basket Lock, the entire keyboard can be instantly removed from the machine. (See illustration.) This is a patented feature, and is found in no other typewriter.

This feature doubles or triples the value of your machine, for it enables you to write in nearly all languages, and with many styles of type.



We can furnish extra keyboard for Russian, Greek, or Bulgarian, at a moderate extra cost. These can be inserted in your machine in a minute's time. Any other European language can be written with the regular keyboard. We make our regular keyboards with four styles of type: Pica, medium Roman, elite, and small italic. By purchasing extra keyboards you can write your business letters with one style of type, your records and legal documents with another, and your personal letters with a third, by simply lifting out one type basket and inserting another.

ALL WORKING PARTS VISIBLE

The removable type basket makes the Reliance a remarkably simple machine to operate, for it removes all mystery from its construction. As you will see by illustration, when the basket is removed, all the working parts are clearly visible, and easy of access. This offers the best possible opportunity for getting at the interior of your typewriter, for oiling or adjustment. This one special feature makes the Reliance easier to understand, and easier to keep in condition, than any other standard machine on the market today. It should especially appeal to those who are buying typewriters for their own use, and who wish to take care of their own machines without the aid of an expert repair man.

AUTOMATIC PAPER TABLE RELEASE

Automatic Paper Table Release—This is an exclusive feature of the Reliance. By simply pulling the paper table forward with the fingers, the small feed roller is thrown away from the large roller, or platen. This allows you to insert large, bulky papers, or several sheets of duplicates, or carbon papers, and is very convenient for straightening or sliding paper while in the cylinder. The instant you let loose the paper table, the feed roller automatically drops back into place. On other machines, this is done only by complicated springs or levers.

The paper feed takes any thickness of paper. You can write from the extreme upper edge to the extreme lower edge with absolute accuracy and also the full width of paper, if desired.

Two Color Ribbon—The Reliance can be fitted with either a one or a two color ribbon. When using a two color ribbon, you can change instantly from black to red, or vice versa, by simply pressing the little ribbon lever. You can always tell what color your machine is set to write, for the ribbon signal shows black or red, as the case may be. The ribbon lock keeps the colors entirely separate, and absolutely prevents writing both colors on the same type. The ribbon switch enables you to instantly change the direction of ribbon travel.

Type Face Protection—In the back of each type there is a small, projecting lug. If, through careless operating, two keys should be struck at the same time, this lug receives the force of the blow, and prevents the face of the type from becoming marred.

Wide Carriage—The Reliance carriage will easily take paper 10⅛ inches in width, and will write a 9 inch line.

The Scale, which runs along under the ribbon, shows you at all times just how far on your line you have written, and how many more letters can be printed on that line.

The Standard Key Depression, used on the Reliance, makes the action exceedingly light and rapid.

Any kind of work that is possible with any other machine can easily be done with the Reliance. It is a strong manifolder—from 8 to 10 carbon copies can be made at a single writing. It is readily adapted for stencil work. By putting the point of a pencil in the little wire loop, at the side of the printing point, either vertical or horizontal ruling can be done, without any adjustment of the machine.

Every typewriter is carefully inspected before leaving the factory, and will be ready for use when it reaches you. No further adjustment is necessary.

To Make Travel Enjoyable, it Must be Comfortable

Folks are changing with the times; and we believe the change is doing us all good. Time was, not so long ago, when traveling wasn't pleasant or comfortable under any circumstances. That's all different now.

When you travel today, it can be made a genuine pleasure if you will equip yourself with a few personal needs to add to your comfort. A good suitcase or bag; a handy trunk that keeps your clothes in good order without wrinkling or mussing up; traveling sets, with all the needs for the toilet; combs, brushes, bags, vacuum bottles, for short trips; shaving sets, traveling outfits complete—all these help make the trips agreeable.

See our new travel section. We've searched far and wide to make it complete and worth your while to look into. The new steamer and wardrobe trunks we show are unusually attractive. Priced low, all through.

A Sport That's Coming Back

Bicycling is coming back into favor more strongly than ever. More of them sold than years ago.

Good reasons for it, too. Roads are in better shape now than they ever were; and they're kept in shape. Ride almost anywhere you please, and you'll find roads fit to ride a bike on.

Besides, bicycles cost so little today compared with their cost 10 years ago. Our line is shown in actual colors in this catalogue.

KANGAROOS and oiled silk—fleecy clouds and blacksmith tools—bear little relation to one another. The articles listed in this part of the book may not suggest your other needs—unrelated to the things shown here. Before you send your order why not study ALL THE DEPARTMENTS of this catalogue—and thereby economize, not only on your purchases, but on transportation charges as well. This puts a charge of compressed air into chamber. Then drop air rifle shot into muzzle of barrel; the rifle is then ready to shoot. It will shoot much harder than the regular style air guns. Force of shot is entirely under your control, as you can either obtain high or low compression, according to the number of times you pump in air. Uses regular BB Air Rifle Shot. We keep a record of the name, caliber and style of every revolver and pistol we sell. This record is open at all time for inspection. RIFLE AND REVOLVER AMMUNITION

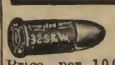
Black and Smokeless

These Illustrations are Half the Size of Cartridges.



Metallic Cartridges, loaded with Smokeless Powder, are all the same shape and size as regular Black Powder Cartridges, but have less grains of powder in them than Black Powder Cartridges, the difference being made up by the increased strength of the primer used in Smokeless Cartridges. We can furnish any other kind of cartridges, not in this list, at lowest market price. If ordered with other goods they will be shipped direct from factory at customer's expense. Cartridges can be shipped with other goods by express or freight, but cannot be sent by Parcel Post. We carry a complete line of celebrated Remington U. M. C. high grade ammunition. We do not ship cartridges C. O. D.

Cartridges offered at lower prices than ours are not of standard make. Our prices are as low as any that can be offered on standard ammunition. We advise using only factory loaded smokeless cartridges. Soft Point Bullets have a metal patch or jacket to the point, and when the bullet strikes it will expand to give effects upon animal tissues much greater than the regular cartridges. The full metal cased give greater penetration. All cartridges have lead bullets unless otherwise stated.

NOTE—M. P. means Metal Patched Bullets. S. P. means Soft Point Bullets.

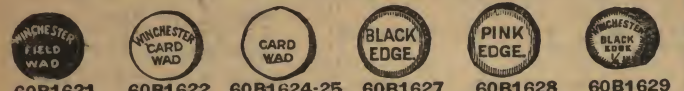
Why Gun Barrels Burst



Of Interest to Every Gun Owner. Gun barrels do not burst, of course, without a cause, but usually that cause is one of which the shooter is entirely ignorant, but nevertheless, no one is responsible but himself. Gun barrels can only burst by having some obstruction in the barrel, or by overloading with nitro powder. Any gun barrel can be burst by misuse or by carelessly loading smokeless powder, but no barrel will burst by using factory-loaded ammunition, provided there is no obstruction or foreign substance inside the barrel. When a gun barrel bursts at the breach or chamber, it is caused by an overloaded shell, and when it bursts in the center or near the muzzle, it is caused by some obstruction, such as a dent, snow, mud, etc.

SMOKELESS POWDER

Note—All Dynamite, Smokeless and Black Powder must be shipped alone, by freight, from the nearest powder magazine. Cannot be shipped with other goods. Freight charges are double first class. Delay of about 10 days in making shipments.

The minimum charge in eastern territory and some western states is double first class rate for 100 lbs. In territory west of Chicago, the rate is double first class, with a minimum charge of $1.00. For example: Say the rate is 37½c, doubling would only make it 75c, but the railroad would charge $1.00.

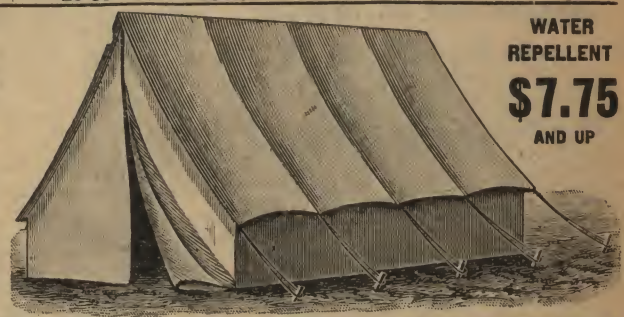
PEERLESS GRADE FINEST QUALITY WALL TENT

The construction of this tent makes it desirable for those who want something superior

FAR AHEAD OF THE OLD STYLE WOOD FASTENER



$5.00 to $29.00

Our Peerless brand of Wall Tents are the best that we can make. They are all made with the patent key and guy-rope fastener, as illustrated, which makes a stronger tent, because the grommet holes in the eaves of the tent (which were always a weakness) are wholly done away with. The tent is roped all around the eaves and all around the bottom, thereby adding the strength of the rope to that of the canvas. The keys for tightening the guy ropes which formerly were of wood and were continually breaking, are wholly done away with, as the guy rope fasteners are made of galvanized malleable iron.

The Edson—The Most Perfect Safety Razor

Actual Size of Razor and Blade

Some safety razor facts, stated by a man who has used old style razors and high priced safety razors, and who has put his other razors away and shaves every morning with an Edson because he finds it the best shaving tool he has ever used.

"The value of a good safety razor is not appreciated by a man who uses an old-fashioned razor or who patronizes a barber. Not one man in ten can properly strop a razor. And without expert stropping even the best old-style razor will not shave cleanly or comfortably. This fact accounts for the tremendous popularity of Safety Razors.

"Even with the ordinary hoe shaped safety razor and a new blade the average man can shave more cleanly than with the regular razor poorly stropped. With an Edson razor the advantage is even greater. The Edson is the nearest to perfection in safety razors yet produced."

Holds Blade at the Correct Angle

The blade is set at an angle that holds it flat on the face. Even an amateur can shave easily and cleanly. Frame is of simple, two-piece construction, heavily silver plated, and will not rust. The guard is smooth and soothing to the face, not like a comb. Corners do not extend in front of blade, giving a full length cutting edge. Handle is short and thick, giving a firm, easy grip. A half turn of the handle either loosens or tightens the blade.

Blades Are Hand Forged and Tempered

Edson blades are so much better than most other safety razor blades, that their shaving qualities are a revelation of comfort and efficiency. They are stamped from a long strip of selected steel, and machine finished—a wonderful automatic process insuring almost absolute uniformity of temper. The edges are forged, stropped and tested by experts. Then the blades are wrapped in rust-proof wax paper packages.

The result is a blade that will hold its edge longer than most safety razor blades, and shave any beard cleanly, rapidly and comfortably. By using the special strop in Outfits 46B8792 and 46B8793, Edson blades can be kept sharp indefinitely.
